The year 1987 marks the 100 year celebration for the city of Woodward, and this yearbook is in dedication of this historical event.

Each year the names and faces change, and so have the schools. Pictured from left to right is Woodward High School over the years.

Friendship at WHS has always been a key ingredient.

From the 1986-87 school picnic in August to the prom in April, new friendships have been made, and old friendships have been renewed.

Through good times and bad, the buddies at WHS have always stuck together.

From the expected to the often unexpected, we had fun times, hard times and just about every kind of time in between.

Whether it was piling 10 people into a car and speeding to McDonalds, or meeting your friends roaming in the hall, the students were always finding new ways to enjoy life and being just friends.

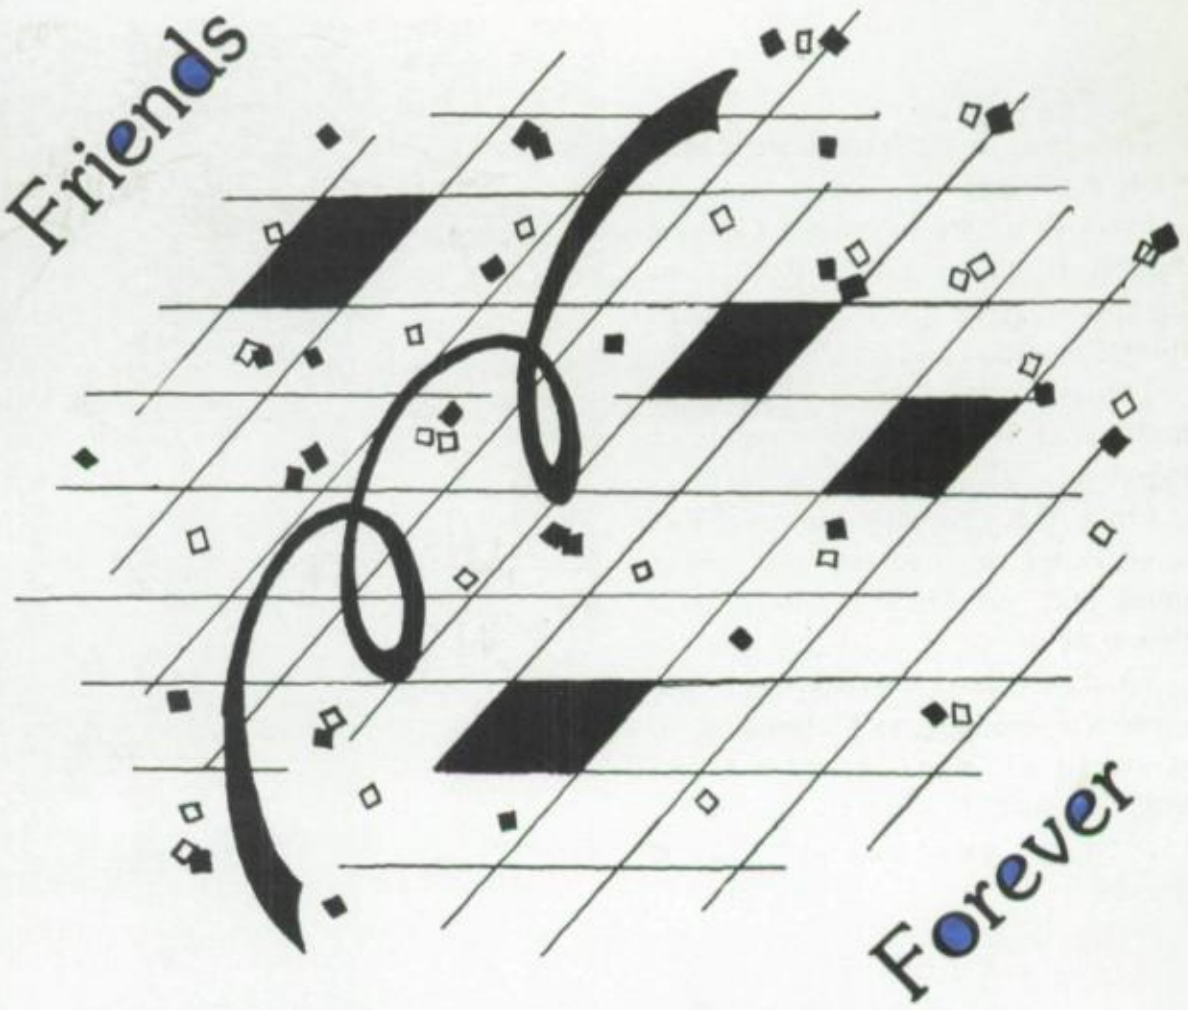
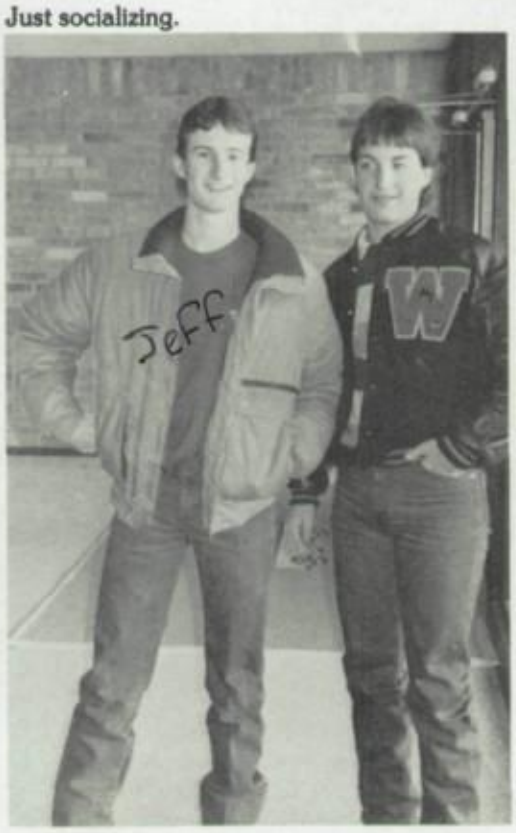
et's give it our best smile, Granny!!



he "JAMAICA" look!!!

Just socializing.



Look at those "Rugged Wrangler Boys."

The Star Search Finalists.

Not every moment that we spent at WHS was serious!

Through term papers, semester tests, and never-ending homework, the students ALWAYS found plenty of time for "clowning around." Pep assemblies, homecoming weeks, and air bands are a few among the many great times we had.

The graduating Seniors will never forget all of the fun spent at Woodward High School.

Like teacher, like student.

Cheer them on Jeff!!!

Everybody do the "monkey!!!"

Thank-you, Thank-you!!

This is not my day.

Aaron,

I'm not sure what I want to say. I guess we met under unusual circumstances, but that doesn't matter. I want you to know what a wonderful guy you are. You make me laugh (& cry)! Thanks for being honest and for sharing part of yourself with me. Don't ever let anyone tell you, you are a nobody, because there is more to you than you let other people see. Try not to hide behind your "rebellious nature. Getting even isn't worth it. Look me up this summer, And stay out of trouble.

Love Always,
Andrea

Where the Celebration Begins

The annual Student Council picnic got the school year off to a great start. There was a large turnout which made it a real success. Other activities included being in charge of Homecoming activities, dances, and the Miss Woodward Pageant. Student Council also succeeded in raising money for the United Fund with their annual auction. The Student Council led the WHS student body through a great year!

Pretty as a Picture

The yearbook staff of '86-'87 worked harder than ever to beat their up and coming weekly deadlines. They put in long, hard hours to make this yearbook the best it could be. Sure, it was not always a picnic, but the yearbook staff kept their spirits up, and through it all they came out pretty as a picture.

M.I.N.D.S.

Mental Interpretations of Neo-Dynamic Students was the original title selected for Woodward High School's writing club, although it soon evolved to simply being known as the M.I.N.D.S. — partially for simplicity and partially for prestige! The M.I.N.D.S. work to inspire amateur writers and to develop and improve their discipline and writing skills. The expression of inner emotions, feelings, and creativity in writing are a few of the things that they strive to improve. Dreams of publication are shared by all the members, but each understands that writing professionally is a goal to be set and not just a talent. M.I.N.D.S. is an organization that works on making their dreams one step closer to reality.

I was surprised. I couldn't believe I did it. The competition was tough. I never even heard my name — just my number.

— Tracie Bayliff —

Thirteen beautiful and talented young ladies worked long and hard practicing for the chance of being named this year's Miss Woodward. Through those long hours they helped and encouraged each other for the awaited night. Then September 27th came. The thirteen contestants and their beaus looked as close to perfect as possible. As the night continued and the nervousness lessened backstage, each contestant modeled and performed her talent.

Finally, the moment came for the judges to voice their decisions. The thirteen contestants joined hands across the stage awaiting the decisions. Then, as silence filled the auditorium, the announcement came: Miss Congeniality . . . Mechelle Aitson, Third Runner-up . . . Michelle Statton, Second Runner-up . . . Tammy Estes, First Runner-up . . . Mechelle Aitson, and the new Miss Woodward 1986-87 . . . Tracie Bayliff.

MAXIMUM EFFORT

The 1986 season came and went like any other season. The Boomers had their good moments along with their bad ones. This football team, however, will always be remembered. This year's Boomers played each game with incredible intensity and a desire to win. The fans and players will always remember the big plays, from flea flicker touchdowns and big fumble recoveries to 70-yard sweeps and last-minute field goals.

The Boomers had a reputation of being hard-hitting. They made quarterbacks tremble, tailbacks suffer, and linebackers live in constant fear of the crack block. They played their hearts out against top-ranked Carl Albert, tough to the end, losing only on the scoreboard. That night the Boomers, led by ten proud seniors, proved to themselves that they could play with anyone in the state.

They will be missed.
